Other Announcements –

- Also, we will be asking each student to submitted one scrapbook page about themselves (much like the soldier letter project). This page will then go into another scrapbook to also be auctioned off. How fun it would be to remember their classmates by getting that book. Start thinking of your page and parents can help their child with this project. The auction is not till February, so you have time to think of what you want to put on your special page.

I will be working on another scrapbook in class with the students. For this book, I would like two pictures of your child (one baby picture and the other doing something they love/family).

Points to remember:

If your student is absent, please come or send someone to pick up homework and books. I do not give out assignments early, if your child will be out of class. If they are sick, then they are to turn in work as soon as possible. If they are not sick, I would expect the assignments turned in the next day.

Have a great week! Mrs. Patacsil
